

Camp Packing List

Clothing

- Clothes to get destroyed—really (comfy t-shirts, running shorts, sweats, etc.)
- T-shirts
- Sweatshirts
- Flannels (HIGHLY RECOMMENDED)
- Jeans/Pants (for the cold days)
- Shorts (running or regular)
- Sweats (no yoga pants please ladies, thanks!)
- Church clothes (whatever you would normally wear to a service)
- Warm clothes (especially suitable for layering—you never know, you may want to sleep outside, and it gets COLD at night)
- Socks (it gets cold—do it)
- Modest bathing suit (no bikini's or speedos please)
- Running shoes (not nice ones—they'll get beat up)
- Flip flops (or quick change shoes)
- Hiking shoes (chacos, tevas, hiking boots, etc.)
- Shower shoes
- Church shoes—whatever that is for you.

Sundry Items

- Headlamp/flashlight
- YOUR BIBLE
- A notebook/paper to use for your kids or to give to other people (sounds ridiculous, but sometimes kids just need paper!)
- Snacks (recommended: granola bars, goldfish, trail mix, and various other things you can eat on the go!)
- A watch—This is a great place to remind you that will not be able to have your phone with you (including at night) while our camps are in session, so plan to have a watch for keeping time
- Alarm Clock
- Water bottle
- Pens (I would buy some cheap ones, your kids will ALWAYS be asking for them!)
- Sunglasses
- Money for the Sundeck (camp store)
- Any medication you might need on a regular basis (please be aware, if you are a counselor during a week of camp, your medication must be turned into the camp nurse. NO medications may be kept in your cabin with kids present. Exceptions would be an emergency inhaler or an epi-pen).
- Any outdoor gear you might have (bike, wakeboard, mountain board, climbing gear, etc.)

Toiletries

- Shampoo/Conditioner
- Toothbrush
- Toothpaste
- Lotion
- Bug spray
- Sunscreen
- All the basics—you know what you need (we will provide laundry detergent though!)
- Towel (beach/shower)

Bedding

- Sleeping bag
- Blanket or multiple blankets
- Many staff in the past have also brought sheet sets and comforters. Just keep in mind that you will be moving around often, but will want to be warm.
- Pillow

When Counseling... (NOT NECESSARY, JUST FUN)

- Cards (regular deck, uno, etc.)
- Quick portable games for filling down time
